With this certificate, you participate in rising prices of the underlying up to a maximum of +40%. How the certificate works

At the initial valuation date the starting value of the underlying is fixed and from that the barrier is determined. During the observation period the underlying price is compared with the its barrier.

The following options are possible at the end of the term:

1. Barrier not touched or undercut

If the underlying has risen, you participate 1:1 in the performance up to a maximum of +40%.

If the underlying has fallen, losses are converted 1:1 into profits.

2. Barrier touched or undercut at least once during the term

In this case, redemption is affected according to the performance.

The maximum redemption remains limited to 140% of the nominal value.

The performance is defined as the percentage development from the starting value to the final value.

Certificates are risky instruments of wealth investment. Should the price of the respective underlying instrument of a certificate develop adversely, an investor may lose part or all of his or her invested capital. Certificates react more strongly or weakly to changes of the price of the underlying instrument depending on a number of factors (e.g. volatility or correlation of the underlying instruments, interest, dividends, remaining term, changes in foreign exchange rates) and do not move simultaneously with the underlying. Under certain circumstances the issuer is authorized to redeem the certificates prior to the agreed repayment date.

Issuer Risk/Creditor Participation ("bail-in"): Any payments during or at the end of the term of the certificates depend on the solvency of the issuer ("issuer risk"). Investors are therefore exposed to the risk that Raiffeisen Bank International AG might be unable to fulfil its payment obligations in respect of the described financial instrument such as in the event of insolvency ("issuer risk") or an official directive ("bail-in"). The resolution authority may also issue such an order before any insolvency proceedings if the issuer is judged to be in crisis. Under these circumstances the resolution authority has wide-ranging powers to take action (so-called "bail-in instruments"). For example, it can reduce the claims of investors in respect of the described financial instruments to zero, terminate the described financial instruments, or convert them into shares of the issuer and suspend investors' rights. More detailed further information is available at raiffeisenzertifikate.at/en/basag. A total loss of the invested capital is possible. Past performance is no reliable indicator of future results. Please refer to the Base Prospectus for additional disclosures on risks as well as further information.

The Bonus Certificate's price is subject to several influencing factors and need not develop simultaneously to and in accordance with the underlying's performance. Such influencing factors include e.g. intensity of the underlying's price fluctuations (volatility), bond interest rates, solvency of the issuer or remaining term. If the Bonus Certificate is sold prior to the end of the term, there is the risk to incur a partial or even total loss of the invested capital. Dividends and similar rights associated with the underlying are taken into account when structuring the Bonus Certificate and are not paid out.
