Underlying

The harmonized consumer price index tracks the change in the general price level in the euro area. By calculating the HICP, one obtains an overview of inflation for the entire euro area. It is thus used by the European Central Bank, among others, to monitor price stability as part of its mandate.

For the Inflation Bond, the HICP excluding euro area tobacco is used.

Inflation rate (Annual change of the underlying in %)

It is therefore not a substitute for individual investor and investment advice and risk disclosure. The advertisement was not prepared in accordance with the legal requirements designed to promote the independence of investment research and is not subject to the prohibition on dealing ahead of the dissemination of investment research.

The complete legal basis for a possible transaction in a financial instrument described here is formed by the registration document approved by the Luxembourg Financial Supervisory Authority (CSSF) and the securities note approved by the Austrian Financial Market Authority (FMA) – both documents together form the base prospectus – along with any supplements and the respective final terms filed with the FMA. The approval of the base prospectus by the competent authority should not be understood as an endorsement of the financial instruments described by this authority. Additional information on the financial instrument is available free of charge in the respective key information documents (KIDs) on the website of Raiffeisen Bank International AG (RBI) after entering the security identification number (ISIN) at raiffeisencertificates.com. Unless explicitly stated in these documents, no measures have been or will be taken in any jurisdiction to allow a public offer of this financial instrument.

Issuer risk/creditor participation ('Bail-in'): All payments during the term or at the end of the term of the certificates are dependent on the solvency of RBI (issuer risk). Investors are exposed to the risk that RBI as the issuer might be unable to fulfil its payment obligations in respect of the financial instruments, e.g. in the event of insolvency (insolvency/over-indebtedness) or an official order for resolution measures by the resolution authority. The resolution authority may also issue such an order before any insolvency proceedings if RBI is judged to be in crisis. Under these circumstances the resolution authority has wide-ranging powers to take action (so-called "bail-in instruments"). Among other things, it can reduce investors' claims under the financial instruments described to zero, terminate the financial instruments described or convert them into RBI shares, and suspend investors' rights. Further detailed information is available at raiffeisenzertifikate.at/en/bail-in. A total loss of the invested capital is possible.

Please note that the legal situation may change due to legislative amendments, tax directives etc.

The price of the Certificate is dependent on the underlying's price. Adverse performances of the underlying may cause price fluctuations of the Certificate during the term. If the Certificate is sold prior to the end of the term, there is the risk to incur a substantial loss of the invested capital ("market risk"). The capital protection of 100% of the nominal value applies solely at the end of the term. Loss of value due to inflation is not covered by the capital protection. During the term, the price of the Certificate may drop below the agreed capital protection amount. During the term, the Certificate's price is subject to several influencing factors and needs not develop simultaneously to and in accordance with the underlying's performance. Such influencing factors include e.g. intensity of the underlying's price fluctuations (volatility), interest rates, solvency of the issuer or remaining term. If the Capital Protection Certificate is sold prior to the end of the term, there is the risk to incur a partial loss of the invested capital. Dividends and similar rights associated with the underlying are taken into account when structuring the Certificate and are not paid out.
